romoting the Appetite and Invigorating the whole Digestive Apparatus, thus Building up and Strengthening the system, while at the same time the volatile principle, being absorbed in the blood, acts specifically on th Rhenmatic Poison, removing it from the circulation and system. There are a few remedies known to the Medical Profession which will remove the Rheumatic Poison from the blood, but whose action is so powerful in depressing the system of the already enfectled Rheumatic pa-tient, that their use has to be abandoned before specific effects are obtainable, hence the want of success in treating this prevalent, and in consequence heretofere incurable disease. Unlike these Medicines, already known, the

though producing as powerful and as active effects on the blood and system in removing the Rheumatic Poison, also possesses strong Tonic and recuperating element which idmits of its continued use even by the most Delicate and debilitated. Thus we have the ombination for the first time of these Two Necessary Elements in one remedy, which accounts for its Superior and never-failing

Tuesday, February 27, 1872.

An Asylum for the Insane. Among those measures which the public fully expected to see embraced in the Governor's Speech at the opening of the Legislature, was one to make suitable provision for the care and proper treatment of lunatics and persons of unsound mind The readiness with which the Administration indicated their intention to deal with the Civil List, Franchise, Education, and and other questions of a popular character, ufforded very general satisfaction, as illustrating for the first time in the history of this country the pleasing fact that the days of irresponsible rule have passed away, and that henceforth public opinion will exert that influence in the Councils of the country which it never should have been denied. There are, however, not a few very important matters demanding legislative action, which certainly should have found a place in the Ministerial programme if only to show that the Ministry were not altogether unconscious of the necessity of giving them legal force. Among them is the question of making provision for the care and treatment of these unfortunate creatures who have been deprived of reason and are incapable of taking care of themselves. There are quite a number of those unhappy beings at present confined in the gaols of Victoria and New Westminster, whose condition is such as to call forth universal sympathy and commisseration and demand the immediate attention of the Government with a view to the alleviation of their unhappy state. There are at this moment no less than nine insane persons, seven men and two women, confined in Victoria gaol, who are really little better than buried aliveshut up in poisome cells, about six feet square, illy ventilated, and with nothing but a tattered and filthy blanket upon which to lie to shield their poor emaciated forms from the damp and cold. In New Westminster goal there are three poor anfortunates similarly situated, confined in miserable dungeons, into which a ray of sunshine never penetrates, left to their miserable fate, apparently with no New Westminster and Cariboo eye to pity, no arm to save, and no heart respect to pity, no arm to save, and no heart to extend a single pulsation of sympathy for them, save and except what kind offices the turnkey of the prision may feel disposed to bestow upon them in addition to his ordinary duties. As for medical treatment, with a view to the restoration of their shattered reason, they have none whatever; they are turned into their cells to live as long as they can, or die as soon as they may, with little more consideration than if they were so many wild animals, instead of himan beings. We would be very sorry to be understood as casting any reflections upon those who are entrusted with to be understood as casting any reflecoffices.

3. A branch service to connect with the main route in services who are entrusted with the personal care of those unfortunate either in the gaol here or at New West-minster. From a personal inspection we lieve the keepers of the prison here do all that they can for them; but crowded as the prison just now is with seventy-four prisoners, beside those that are four prisoners, beside those that are iusane, and only two keepers to look after the whole of them by night and by day, at is impossible for them to bestow that care upon the latter that they should receive. But we do charge the Government of the past with crael negligence in this matter. That any number of persons thus bereft of reason, or even one solitary individual should be so cooped up and left to their melancholy fate, without the slightest effort being put forth to pro-mote their comfort or effect their cure, is a blot upon our Lumanity, a standing disgrace to the country. It is no excuse to plead a want of funds wherewith to provide better accommodation and proper medical treatment for such persons.
If it were necessary a direct tax upon every sane man, woman and child in the country should be levied to raise the needful sum. It is one of those duties that appeals to our humanity, and should be faithfully discharged no matter at what cost. Are the public to understand from the fact that no reference is made in the Governor's speech to the subject of an Insane Asylum, that the Government are indifferent to this subject and purpose taking no action upon it this session Surely out of the large surplus revenue at their disposal they should endeavor to appropriate a sufficient sum to erect at least a temporary building for the accom-modation of insane persons, where they might receive proper medical care and enjoy the advantages of a pure atmosphere, comfortable bedding, wholesome diet, room to walk about, and the watchful care of keepers whose special duty it should be to attend to all their wants. Under such circumstances there might be a hope that some among them would be restored to reason, but under the treatment they now receive all chance of recovery is utterly out of the question. We therefore sincerely hope that when the Estimates come down to the House, it will be found that those poor unfortunate beings whose melancholy condition de-been overlooked by the Government. Rich and rare are the suits they wear, Within his store a splendid stock Is always to be seen.
